ROBE BEGUN DEATH OF WOMAN

Story Surrounds Demise of New York Society Leader

HUSBAND CAN'T BE FOUND

Body Is Demanded by Relatives of Deceased

WHEAT, N. Y. — (Associated Press) — The death of Mrs. Mary Webb, New York and Philadelphia society woman, which it was learned last night aroused the suspicions of several Westchester-co officials, will be thoroughly investigated in an effort to discover cause, the authorities said today.

Mrs. Webb, who was said to have been wealthy in her own right, died Tuesday in the fashionable Westchester Country club after illness of three weeks. Dr. William J. Meyer, her physician, declined to issue a death certificate on the ground that death followed certain named mysterious circumstances.

Several relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hunter, of Devon, N. Y., who were with Mrs. Webb at the time of her death, and cognizant of the alleged mysterious circumstances surrounding it, demanded that an autopsy be performed. Medical experts are summoned and instructed to determine if any lethal poisons were in her body. The result probably will be known until tomorrow.

The greatest secrecy prevailed at the club and among the dead woman's relatives and friends. Mr. Webb, who was with his wife thru her illness, could not be found at his home, office or his club.

Mrs. Webb and her husband were married November 4, last. Since that time they have lived largely in hotels, country clubs and resorts.

Mrs. Webb's private fortune is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. It was said changes in her will had been made just prior to her death.

The physicians working on the case would not make any statement regarding the circumstances of her death, it was said that suspicions had been aroused by bruises on the abdomen.

Directors of the Family Welfare Association, at a meeting Thursday evening, voted unanimously to stage a campaign the week of October 22 to raise $10,000 for carrying forward the work of the organization, Judge Ernest Rotkin, chairman of the board, announced Friday.

Warren McLaughlin was named chairman of the committee to handle the drive but the method of campaigning and the names of the workers, as well as other details were left to a meeting to be held Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Irene Miller Jackson, director of the work, said Friday that the association had made no campaign for funds for two years.

OTTAWA JAIL DELIVERY IS HALTED BY MARSHAL

Only the timely arrival at the Ottawa village jail of Marshal E. M. Cahill prevented a cool and deliberate attempt on the part of three prisoners to negotiate a jail delivery from the bastille.

Marshal Cahill had returned to the jail shortly after having served the three prisoners their breakfast.

On entering the lock-up he found the prisoners, all of whom are local men, in the front room of the enclosure.

Carl Steinhour, who is laying out a fine for speeding, and who is believed responsible for the daring attempt to escape, was preparing to make his get-away when Marshal Cahill surprised him.

Questioning of Charles Rogers, held in connection with the theft of an automobile by Marshal Cahill, disclosed that Steinhour had removed a hook from the folding bed and unlocked the cell door. After he released himself from the cell he unlocked the hook holding the cell door for the other two prisoners.

Steinhour was removed to the county jail for safe-keeping. Marshal Cahill said a more serious charge may be placed against him.

NEW CRIME WAVE HITS LIMA

Two Grocery Stores Are Entered and Merchandise Stolen

TAKE AUTO ACCESSORIES

May be Work of Juveniles, Police Believe

Crime wave of burglaries which struck Lima one month ago was renewed Thursday night. Two grocery stores were robbed and two petty accessories were reported to police. Places robbed were:

Lettell Bros. Grocery, 1000 St. Johns-rd; M. D. Jameson Grocery, 707 Harrison-av; Harry Nichols onion farm, R. D. No. 1; E. C. Maurer garage, 628 N. Main-st.

An empty cash register was rifled at the Lettell Bros. store. Entrance to the building was gained thru a window and exit was made thru a rear door.

CASH REGISTER RIFLED
The cash register was carried from the store to the rear of a garage at the back of the store where it was discovered Friday morning.

Nothing else in the store was disturbed by the robber who was after cash, according to a report made by police after an investigation.

An empty barrel under a rear window indicated that the burglar used it in gaining entrance to the building.

Merchandise valued at approximately $1.65 was stolen from the Jameson grocery.

The store was entered thru a south window which was found ajar Friday morning when the robbery was discovered. Nine cigars and a quantity of candy comprised the loot, which is believed to have been taken by a youth who is held responsible for both jobs.

ACCESSORY THIEVES
Automobile accessories thieves Thursday night entered E. C. Maurer's garage at 628 N. Main-st and stole a tire and rim valued at $20, police were told.

Police are maintaining a watch on stores and markets here for 25 crates of onions stolen Thursday night from the Harry Nichols onion farm near Lima. Belief is expressed that the thieves may attempt to dispose of the produce here.

A spot light was removed from Charles Doran's automobile while it was standing in front of his home, 705 McPherson-av, he reported to police.

Police probe of the robberies started early Friday morning as soon as reports were filed at headquarters. While no official statement has been given out as to whom is suspected the theory is that a youth or a gang of juveniles are responsible for the two grocery store jobs.

MEASURE TO GO TO VOTE OF CITIZENS

Sole Hope of Commission Pinned
Upon Three Mill Levy

FEAR REFERENDUM DEFEAT

Intense Opposition Will Kill State Law Is Belief Here

Decision by the state supreme court that the Taft taxation law must be submitted to the voters in November for acceptance or rejection means that there is just one hope for Lima's finances next year and that is for the voters to pass the three mill levy. City Manager Bingham said when informed by The Lima News of the decision.

"More than ever we must have the three mill levy to help meet 1924's expenses," said Bingham. "Indications are that the Taft law will be beaten over the state by a huge majority and if we do not have the three mill levy that leaves us with only $84,000, in round numbers, for city operating purposes next year. We can then either cut down police and fire protection or put a stiff occupational tax and the commission is opposed to both propositions."

City officials have been hoping the Taft law would stand without any referendum for they are fearful they have often said, that the referendum will swamp the law.

SUPREME COURT ACTS
COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—The state supreme court today held that the Taft taxation law is subject to a referendum and that the secretary of state has no authority to pass upon the sufficiency of referendum petitions until the petitions have been checked by county election boards and returned to his office.

The decision means that the Taft law will be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection at the November election.

The decisions were rendered in the suit brought again: the state tax commission to compel that body to proceed under the Taft law and that to stop Secretary of State Brown from proceeding to inquire into the validity of the referendum petitions before they had been sent out to county election officials to be checked by them.

Chief Justice Marshall and Judges Wannamaker, Day and Allen concurred in both decisions. Judge Robinson concurred in the judgment against the secretary of state, but not in the syllabus. Judge Matthis is ill and did not participate, while Judge Jones is absent.

Judge Robinson dissented in the suit against the tax commission, his verdict being that the law is not providing for a tax levy and not subject to referendum.

McCREHEN SUIT
The decision in the McCrehen suit against the Secretary of State Brown avers that "it is the duty of the secretary of state immediately to transmit the parts of such petition, upon the same being filed in his office, to the boards of deputy state supervisors of elections in the various counties from which there appear names of electors on the parts of said petition, and such duty is mandatory."

With reference to his scrutiny of petitions, the decision holds that "the secretary of state has neither express nor implied power to make any determination relative to such petition until after the parts thereof have been transmitted to the boards of deputy state supervisors of elections of the counties from which there appear names of electors on the parts of such petition, and after the same have been returned to the secretary of state with certification of the number of signatures thereon."

ATTEMPTS LEAP TO DEATH
Suicide of Man Linked With Stokes Case Frustrated

CHICAGO—(United Press)—Robert H. Lee, former deputy sheriff, identified with the plot to defame the character of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, wife of the New York millionaire, today tried to leap from the window of the office of the state's attorney on the sixth floor of the county building.

Detective Murphy, who was guarding Lee and another witness, grabbed the man and dragged him from the window sill.

"I want to end it all," Murphy said, Lee told him.

The suicide attempt followed testimony of E. E. Fries that Lee offered him $1,500 and expenses if he would testify that Mrs. Stokes was friendly with a certain negro, Fries told Assistant State's Attorney Wharton that he refused the offer.

Wharton then summoned Lee and confronted him with Fries. A few moments later Lee tried to leap from the window, according to Murphy.

Wharton said today he would summon two more witnesses alleged to have sworn to false affidavits connecting Mrs. Stokes with notorious Chicago resorts.

Advertising Is Paying Medium For Salesman

"He pays to advertise."
This slogan instead of "It pays to advertise," applies to P. H. Hayes, Toledo cigar salesman.

Thursday the streets of Lima were flooded with advertising literature dealing with the quality of Cinco and El Producto cigars.

No permit to distribute advertising had been issued. Police investigated and arrested P. H. Hayes on a charge of scattering handbills without a permit.

Friday in criminal court Hayes paid a fine of $15. The minimum fine is $5 but the fact that Hayes completed a thoro job caused the court to boost the rate. Hayes was satisfied.

SPECIAL PARKING PROTESTED

Business and Professional Men Against Doctor's Privileges

APPEAL TO CITY OFFICIALS

May Have "Courtesy" Spaces
Reserved for Medics

City officials are being swamped with protests against special legislation giving physicians special parking privileges while real estate men, lawyers and dentists have to take chances on finding parking spaces, according to Mayor Harold Cunningham and City Manager Bingham.

Both officials stated Friday that lawyers, real estate men and dentists have come to them and said they are just as much entitled to special parking privileges as physicians. Merchants, too, say they ought to have some consideration, the two officials declared.

Indications are that the other professions will make a formal protest to the city commission if that body attempts to adopt any special regulations for doctors.

AGAINST PRIVILEGE
Police Chief Lanker told the officials that he is opposed to granting special licenses to the doctors but thought that they ought to have some consideration. His suggestion is that they be allowed to park and then let the court decide as to each particular case.

Bingham, the mayor, and Chief Lanker had a general discussion of the parking and traffic situation and the officials agreed that to give the doctors special privileges on the streets may cause trouble, especially if those privileges are made police orders. So it is probable that requests will be made to auto owners to reserve certain spaces on E. High-st, for example, to accommodate the cars of doctors.

One hour parking also was discussed and officials were divided as to the effect on the people, tho they agreed that there ought to be one hour parking on the principal business streets.

OHIO SOLONS RETURN FROM SOUTHERN TRIP

CINCINNATI—Members of the Ohio general assembly, state officials and their ladies attending a reunion as guests of Cincinnati commercial bodies, returned to the Queen City today, after visiting Chattanooga and points of historical interest in and around that city. The trip to Chattanooga and return was made in two special trains over the Cincinnati Southern railway, the only municipally-owned steam railroad in the United States. While in the south the Ohioans were entertained by the chambers of commerce of Chattanooga and Cincinnati.

At Missionary Ridge the party stopped at the Ohio State Monument, the grounds of which were found to be in bad condition. Members of the Cincinnati delegation accompanying the party at once proposed that a bill be introduced in the next general assembly to provide ample funds with which to keep the grounds and monument in order.

Early this morning no list of those who perished had been obtained. Five cars and the locomotive dropped into the river.

An official message from the scene of the wreck last night told of the difficulties under which the rescuers were working and held out little hope for the many passengers known to have been in the coach and smoking car. The engine crew and the baggage and mail employees are also believed to have lost their lives, the engine crew and mail employees are also believed to have lost their lives, the engine crew and mail employees are also believed to have lost their lives.

NORTHERN SECTION OF CITY IS GETTING NEW WATERMAINS THIS YEAR

New water mains are being laid in the northern end of the city, the work being started late this week, according to an announcement from the office of Supt. Charles Evans.

According to figures in his office, the department this year, to date, has laid two miles and about 900 feet of new water mains, which is a mighty poor showing compared with the work done last year, officials said. Last year at this time the department had laid about 16 miles of new mains. The difference is new work that practically all the new work that was needed for some little time was done last year, over 18 miles of mains being laid during the year.

Belvidere section is getting new mains and also some are being laid in the Bentz new addition and that in the O'Connor-av section, officials of the water department aid.

TED ASSURED PUMPKIN PIES

Ted made sure of his "pumpkin" pie for Sunday dinner early Friday morning. He made a special trip out into the country as soon as he saw the sun was going to dry things off after the heavy rain. He found a huge pumpkin in a corn field on the Elida-rd and after a little negotiating with the owner, was able to carry it away in triumph. On the way home he stopped in at the weather forecasters' and learned that it will be cloudy and unsettled with probable showers in the north and west portions Friday night and Saturday. With slightly cooler temperatures in the north portions Saturday.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

MOSCOW'S NIGHT LIFE REVIVES

They Call You Out of Bed at 1 a. m. for Parties

FUN LASTS TILL MORNING

Russians, Sick of Troubles, Crave Amusement

MOSCOW — (United Press) — The western world seems to have an idea that the Russian of today has little but gloom in his daily and nightly life.

But the people of Moscow, while they have plenty of troubles, are enjoying themselves these days. The old Russian habit of late, or rather early, hours has revived. The various cabarets, restaurants and cafe chantants have adapted themselves to the revived custom. The performances in many of them begin at midnight and last until the hours of the late morning.

If you are not accustomed to this and have day work, it comes hard at the start. It is 1 a. m. and you have just turned in for a good sleep after a hard day's work. When the phone rings, not in a very friendly mood, you trot over to the phone and a sweet voice asks: "What are you doing this evening?" Well, if the lady back of the voice is attractive enough, you scorn the bed, dress and go out to one of these numerous night-life resorts.

After many years of hardships, the public seems to have a frantic desire to amuse itself.

FOUR STYLES HERE

The Summer Hermitage has four stages. On the outdoor stage in the big garden pseudo American dancers, acrobats, humorists and an unending number of singers, male and female, try their best to entertain a good-natured audience, only too anxious to be entertained.

On one of the three indoor stages a musical comedy is being performed.

many of the singers being good enough for the first-class theatres of New York and Chicago. On another stage regular plays of a more serious cast are shown. On the third, called the "Crooked Jimmy," I don't know why, there is always a variety show.

Then, Moscow has five big gambling establishments, one with a big park, where the gamblers can cool off and hear music. Strange to say, there is no record of a gambler's suicide at this place.

FREE MOTHER OF CHARGE

Infant Woman Jailed Twice for "Poison Pen" Crime

LITTLEHAMPTON, England (Special)—With the sentence of Edith Swann, a 32-year-old seamstress here, as the woman with the poison pen, comes to a close a tragedy that blighted the happiness of many, wrecked the lives of an innocent family and kept a guiltless woman in jail for months.

Three years ago this little seaside town began to seethe with poison pen letters. Almost everybody was being written. The authorities seemed helpless. Finally suspicion was cast upon a woman.

Mrs. Rose Gooding, highly respectable, living here with her husband and children, was arraigned on a charge of being the guilty person. She principal witness against her as Edith Swann.

On her testimony, Mrs. Gooding was convicted and given ten days in jail. But the letters did not cease. In March, 1921, Mrs. Gooding was more brought into court. Once more Edith Swann was the principal witness against her. Once more a jury found her guilty of being the author of the letters and this time Justice Avery sentenced her to 12 months imprisonment. But the letters kept right on.

Thanks to the disinterested work of a police constable, who was a friend of the family, Mrs. Gooding's sentence was absolutely proven. She was released after serving two months of the sentence and the government gave her £250 in compensation for the wrong done her.

Soon there was a dramatic change. Edith Swann, who had twice been a chief prosecuting witness, was now herself placed in the dock as the writer of an obscene letter to a neighbor's wife. She was acquitted.

The authorities were at their wit's end. The police and the postoffice inspectors finally worked out a scheme whereby they would sell marked stamps to various people under suspicion and then watch to see how the stamps were used. Nothing came of it until one day they claimed to have completely trapped Edith Swann. She was once more arrested charged with mailing an obscene letter to a sanitary inspector.

The jury found her guilty. Justice Avery sentenced her to 12 months imprisonment.

And now for the first time in years the Gooding family is able to smile. For the shadow which hung over the mother has been raised.

The outcome of this British poison pen case recalls the Maxwell affair in America. After suspicion had been cast upon him, and a grand jury indicted him, George Maxwell, wealthy music publisher, sailed to America to face the charges of being a poison pen writer. But the case was thrown out of court and Maxwell was vindicated.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

When Mr. Myers of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, stepped into the drug store and asked his druggist for the best medicine he had in his store for woman's ills, is it any wonder he was handed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Mrs. L. K. Myers in writing of it says: "I had been weak, run down and had a pain in my left side for a long time, so I could not do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me in a short time so I was able to do all of my housework including washing and ironing, and now I feel fine at the time." As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for benefiting 98 women out of every 100 women who take it, it will pay every suffering woman to try it.—Adv.

WORLD WATCHES WOMEN IN U. S.

European Critics Visions Great Moral Opportunity Here

DIVORCES NOT ALARMING

Sees Americans Taking Marital Laws More Seriously

BY MARIAN HALE

PARIS — (Special) — "The whole world is watching the American woman's progress, not only politically and industrially, but in her attempt to adjust moral issues as well," says Mrs. Dudley Field Malone, formerly Doris Stevens, the famous suffrage leader.

"American women have the chance to fight out the problem of the double standard of morality and to demand equality in love and marriage as well as in politics," she continued, "because they live in a new country, unhampered and unbound by the traditions that European women have learned to conform to."

"America was founded as a protest against the existing social status, and freedom in all lines is possible. I believe that the American woman's contribution to the progress of morality and social reform will be of greater service to the world than her political progress."

KNOWS MANY WOMEN

Mrs. Malone has an unusual opportunity to study the women of Europe as well as America, for she divides her time between France, England and the United States. And her acquaintance includes women in every rank and station of life.

I asked her how she reconciled America's high divorce rate with her statements.

"People often point to the high divorce rate as an indication that America is becoming morally weak," she replied.

"On the contrary, I believe this is an indication that Americans really take their marriage laws seriously and that they do not sanction or want the promiscuity that is common and is recognized in certain other countries."

NO EMPTY TITLE

"Not that I believe divorce is a solution of the difficulties of marriage," she amended. "I know the fault usually lies with the individual rather than with the institution, but I do think it is an evidence that we desire to make the institution an honest thing instead of an empty title."

The first steps in obtaining better relations in marriage and in the home are to take sex out of politics and the industrial world and grant every woman equal rights with every man, Mrs. Malone believes.

EQUALITY OF RIGHTS

"And when every woman has the same rights in industry, property and control over her children that a man has," she concluded, "she may become independent financially, and in a position to demand equality in morality and thus begin marriage on the right foundation."

Mrs. Malone, in spite of the fact that she is abroad much of her time, is still vitally interested in the problems of her own countrywomen and is still an active leader and worker in the Woman's Party.

FARE CUT IS AID TO LEGION MEN

One Way Rate for Round Trip
Boosts Convention

INDIANAPOLIS — (Associated Press) — The one fare rate for the round trip, authorized by all American railroads to veterans attending the national convention, is an inducement which is expected to take thousands of American Legion members to San Francisco national headquarters here has announced. The convention opens Oct. 15.

These rates, confined to members of the legion, widows of deceased members and members of the American Legion Auxiliary, will go into effect at various dates from Oct. 3, according to the distance of the states from San Francisco.

"All legionnaires must leave San Francisco in time to reach the original starting point by midnight of Nov. 15," said the announcement.

WIDE RETURN LIMIT

"The extended return limit, however, is sufficient to enable them to stop over at various points of interest on going and return trip, to make side-trips, or to take short ocean voyages, including trips to Hawaii."

"Most legionnaires will travel in special trains which have been chartered by the various state departments of the organization. Unusual decorations, banners, bands, quartets, bizarre costumes and other features will afford an interesting journey for the war veterans."

TRIP INTO MEXICO

"Those who travel by the southern route will be met by El Paso legionnaires, who will chaperone them on a short trip across the border into Mexico. Salt Lake City will offer a novel experience in salt water baths; Los Angeles bidders will conduct tours of Hollywood while city tours will be staged by veterans of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Portland, Seattle and other large western cities."

RALLY TO AID OF "LOVE CHILD"

Germans Progress in Battle for Unwed Mothers

ASK NEW MATERNITY LAW

Norway Gives Children Names of Their Fathers

BERLIN — (United Press) — For twenty years the German League for the Protection of Maternity has striven to improve the position of the unmarried mother with respect to her personal rights and her economic and social conditions. It has worked to protect unmarried mothers and their children from economic and moral dangers and to wipe out the prejudices prevailing against them.

The aims of the League for the Protection of Maternity, which is affiliated with the International League for Protection of Maternity and Sexual Reform are as follows:

AIMS OF LEAGUE

1. Compulsory insurance for mothers.
2. Abolition of legal discrimination against illegitimate children.
3. The reform of maternity in its economic, moral and legal aspects.
4. Abolition of contempt against illegitimate motherhood.
5. Universal respect for the importance of motherhood.

In June, 1916, a great congress was held to improve the legal position of illegitimate children. All welfare organizations, as well as government officials, were represented.

The congress demanded that the state and the large communities understand the care of all illegitimate children. It was claimed that the illegitimate child should have the right to paternity from its father and the father's heirs.

The Norwegian law for children whose parents did not enter matrimony was passed in 1916. It gives the illegitimate child the right of its father's heritage and his name. The child can demand sustenance and education from its father, as well as from its mother.

The child lives with its mother. If the mother dies or neglects the child, the guardian may entrust it to the father. The parent under whose care the child is living must maintain it as if it were legitimate; the other parent fulfills his duty by paying a part of the maintenance costs.

The paternity of the child, according to the Norwegian law, must be discovered in every case, it being held that society, as well as the child, has a right to know the social position of both parents. If the courts do not venture to state the fact of paternity, but are convinced of relationship between the parents during the questioned time, the possible father will be held to pay.

But the progress in Germany has been slower. When from time to time, it is reported that women officials of the posts or telegraphs, or a teacher, have been dismissed because of illegitimate maternity, we file protests against this unconstitutional action, but the ministry replies, quite as in olden times, that the dismissal was ordered for immoral conduct.
But who would think of enforcing the same penalty for the illegitimate paternity of male officials?

The department of justice has issued a decree that in official intercourse every unmarried mother is entitled to be addressed as "Frau."

Four-Year-Olds Have No Sense Of Proportions

CHICAGO — Children four years old have little or no sense of proportion, is the conclusion of Miss Stella McCarthy, associate professor of education at Goucher college, following a test over a period of three years to gauge the natural artistic impulses of children between the ages of four and eight.

More than 40,000 drawings submitted from all parts of the United States were examined in the test, the result of which has been announced here by the committee on conservation and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church. Children were allowed a free choice of subjects, which included more than 900 topics, with a very wide range.

"The majority of the girls submitted drawings of houses and domestic things, while the boys drew on their imaginations more and constructed pretentious buildings, bridges and mechanical devices," said Miss Mc-Carthy, who also is chairman of the Kindergarten Club of her city.

"After carefully studying all the drawings, I came to the conclusion that children four years old have little or no sense of proportion. At eight years, about one-fourth of the number had developed it. Only one-eighth of the drawings showed any signs of perspective."

DRY LAW REPEAL URGED AT BANKERS' CONVENTION

ATLANTIC CITY — Repeal of the prohibition amendment was advocated today before the American Bankers' Association convention by Waldo Newcomer, president of the National Bank division.

The constitution of the United States was never intended to be a code of criminal law, but was meant to lay down the respective rights of the national and state government, he said.

RUHR MAY KEEP UP FIGHT

People Taking Stand Against Government, French Report

BAVARIA ALARM DIES DOWN

Uprising Not Against Berlin But Opposing Fascisti

DUESSELDORF — (Associated Press)—The impression voiced by French officials here is that the population in the Ruhr is taking a stand against the government's capitulation and is in favor of continuing the fight against the occupation without assistance from Berlin.

BERLIN — (United Press) — Germany today was still jittery and nervous, fearing a revolution around the corner.

Following yesterday's startling developments in which the reich's government declared limited martial law throughout the nation to offset a similar declaration in Bavaria, the population lived in momentary expectation of an outbreak.

Military rule if anything, tended to heighten the popular apprehension.

The people seemed to think that the terror of dissolution which has lurked in the back of many German's minds ever since the revolution which followed the armistice, was about to be realized.

Munich messages, however, so far have failed to justify the jumpiness of the population. It began to appear popular nervousness was greater than events so far have justified.

BAVARIAN SITUATION

Indeed, as the day began, it was evident the Bavarian dictatorship of Dr. Von Kahr, at least in its inception, certainly was not a maneuver to further separation of Bavaria from the reich, or designed against the federal government. Instead, events indicated, the Bavarian dictatorship was an iron-handed eleventh hour move to halt the Bavarian Fascists, led by Herr Hitler and supported by General Ludendorff, both of whom Von Kahr apparently hates as plotters behind the scenes.

Munich advices said Von Kahr was particularly determined that Ludendorff's constant plotting for restoration of the monarchy shall be defeated.

The 24-hour general strike called by the communists when cessation of passive resistance was ordered, apparently was only partly successful.

In Berlin the federal authority vested in national Dictator Gessler, seemed to have general support. Leaders, government officials and representatives of federal employees from throughout the reich met last night and pledged themselves to support the government.

MUNICH, Bavaria — (Associated Press)—Despite threatened demonstrations by Nationalists and Hitlerites, last evening in Munich passed uneventfully. The halls where the demonstrators had planned to hold meetings were occupied by the police when the inhibition upon such gatherings by Dr. Von Kahr, the military dictator, was decreed. Small groups of manifestants in the streets were dispersed without incident. The ministries and other official buildings were under occupation by the reichswehr.

The day passed quietly in Nuremberg also.

Adolph Hitler, later of the Fascist element, has sent a letter to Dr. Von Kahr protesting against prohibition of the meeting his followers intended to hold and declaring his future acts will depend upon those of Dr. Von Kahr.

EGYPT PEACEFUL AND OPTIMISTIC

Decision to Stand Clear is Boon

CAIRO, Egypt—(Associated Press)—Egypt was never so tranquil or so full of promise for the future as it is today, in the opinion of disinterested observers in this city. Great Britain's decision to "stand clear" and give the Egyptians a fair chance to run the country themselves has proved a wise measure. It has allayed anti-English feeling, put an end to the aggressive activities of revolutionary organizations, and created general peace, a much clearer political atmosphere. Gen. Allenby, the British high commissioner, is keeping a close eye on the course of events. He finds the task of administering the country and promoting progress and prosperity too big a task, England will "stand clear" and guide the forces of the most ardent Egyptians, even Pasha himself, who is now in Cairo after an absence of years, never envisaged an Egyptian way as she has. It was Zaki, a great heroic figure in Egypt's history, the British government, the ground from under him by using him from his bondage in a virtually placing the future of Egypt in his hands. The sudden capitulation of England would appear to have convinced him. He is now asked to lead all of Egypt's forces, to conquer and not to destroy. It is added by all that he has a great before him.

10 MILLION PACKAGES MAILED IN PHILIPPINES
MANILA—Collect parcel post packages to the amount of $515,000 were sent in 1922 from the United States to the Philippines; the business has grown so in the past year that its total for 1923 is estimated at $5,000,000. His would mean the handling and packing of something like 2,000,000 separate parcels, and the Philippine postal authorities are working how they can meet these demands. Increased postal appropriations will be necessary, and the has been advanced in some quarters that the collect service should be discontinued.

Jump On To Car, Americans Fined By Moscow Court

MOSCOW—Russia is going to the right! At least the Moscow Soviet has decided that it shall in order to regulate the traffic.

Pedestrians going a certain direction must all walk on one side of the street. To disobey this order means a fine which in United States money would be 40 cents.

Also street traffic will be regulated. The policemen have been provided with sticks or wands. Of course, they are red. Whenever a policeman waves his red wand street traffic must stop instantly.

The Moscow chief of police personally demonstrated on the street how the thing should be done. The public stood around and watched, many of them jeeringly. However, they probably will obey. They will, or be fined. The Russian police are very strict.

Two Americans, oil men, recently discovered that. It is against the law to jump on a tram-car (street car) while it is in motion. These oil men were in a hurry to get somewhere. Well, they jumped into the arms of a conductor and he turned them over to a policeman. They were respectfully asked to pay a fine of 50 rubles each, to the policeman, who, in Russia, has authority to collect minor fines.

The Americans failed to see the point. So the policeman took them to the nearest police station. Here they were compelled to pay 500 rubles each, the addition to the first fine being apparently for the extra trouble they had caused the police department.

They couldn't understand what it was all about until they returned to their hotel and were told that it was illegal to jump on a Moscow street car.

ANCIENT CHINESE GAME HAS WORLD POPULARITY

SHANGHAI—(Associated Press)—Ivory dealers and ivory carvers in China are profiting handsomely just now by reason of the fact that something approximating a craze for one of China's most ancient games has been sweeping thru both the United States and Europe. Export reports of ivory carving establishments, working night and day in Shanghai and environs, are based for the belief that thousands in the United States and England are playing Mah Jongg.

RED CROSS MEET IN S. AMERICA

Pan-American Conference to be Held at Buenos Aires

WASHINGTON — United Press — With a view to promoting amity between the nations of North and South America and of raising the health standard of the hemisphere, the first Pan American Red Cross conference will be held at Buenos Aires, Nov. 23 to Dec. 6, 1927.

The American Red Cross expects to play an important part in the conference. Col. Ernest R. Bell, vice chairman in charge of foreign operations, will represent the American Red Cross. There is also a possibility that John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross and chairman of the board of governors of the League of Red Cross Societies, will also attend the Buenos Aires sessions.

The rapidly developing Red Cross movement throughout Latin America has been fostered and encouraged by the American Red Cross, which has several times cooperated with its sister organizations in the southern continent in giving material assistance in times of disaster, such as the earthquake in Chile. It is to further this cord of purpose and action and to build up a great cohesive Pan American Red Cross organization that it will send representatives to the Buenos Aires conference.

These representatives will outline in detail the work of the American Red Cross throughout the United States including the establishment of more than 1,000 public health nurses; service to the disabled veterans and in the army and navy hospitals; home hygiene and care of the sick; first aid and life-saving and the spread of the Junior Red Cross, which now has more than 5,000,000 members.

American Red Cross Chapters are already established in some parts of South America and in the American island possessions of the West Indies, where their steady growth has come from the support of the people.

DID HIM WORLDS OF REAL GOOD

Suffered With Stomach for 20 Years Before He Found
the Plant Juice

IT HELPED HIM AT ONCE

"I can honestly say that your Plant Juice did me worlds of good," said Mr. Howard E. Williams, of 130 E. Washington street, Trenton, N. J., while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently.

MR. H. E. WILLIAMS

"For 20 years I had suffered from stomach trouble," Mr. Williams continued. "I had indigestion and constipation and was not able to work for days at a stretch. At times I would actually fall over while at the shop and then for days afterward I would not be able to do a thing. During the last few years I had been so bad that even a drink of water would just seem to tear my stomach all to pieces. I could hardly eat anything at all. Just one bite of meat would cause me to suffer for days afterward. I really did not think there was anything that would help me for I had tried everything that anybody over told me about and did not improve, but a friend of mine recommended Plant Juice so highly that I decided to at least try it."

"I want to say that the first few doses of your Plant Juice helped me. In a few days, I could see a big change and now, since taking the medicine for some time, I am feeling like a new man. I can eat three big meals every day now. In the past, I was never able to eat any lunch but I eat lunch now and enjoy it. The truth is that your Plant Juice has done for me what I had never expected that any medicine would be able to do and I know from experience that it is all that is claimed. I really feel 100 per cent better in every respect and just can't say enough for your Plant Juice medicine."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wavne-sts and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. —Adv

RIGID MARTIAL LAW EXTENDED

Another Oklahoma County Put Under Military Rule

GOVERNOR TIGHTENS GRIP

Appeal for Protection is Made to Executive

OKLAHOMA CITY — (Associated Press)—The iron hand of the military descended today upon another county in Oklahoma as warning was given by Governor J. C. Walton that more stringent martial law is in store for other sections if "invisible government" in the state can be put down in no other way.

Upon the appeal of more than a score of residents of Sulphur, the governor late last night ordered military occupation of Murray county where the civil authorities, some of whom are said to be controlled by the Ku Klux Klan, are charged with having neglected to prosecute persons responsible for numerous mob outrages.

Violence and bloodshed may result from the "deplorable conditions" existing in the county, the governor declared in asking for the establishment of rigid martial law. The persons and property of those not members of the Ku Klux Klan, they asserted, are unsafe under the "reign of Klan officers."

GOVERNOR'S THREAT
Early today at the executive mansion, Governor Walton declared there will be no end to military rule in the state until mob violence and masked depredations cease. "Martial law is being tightened instead of loosened," he said in denying rumors that a modification of military regulations is in prospect.

Despite his statement, however, the belief persisted in well informed quarters that a decrease in the scope of martial law can be expected within the next few days.

This opinion was strengthened by a perceptible lessening of public tension which was prevailed since legislative opposition against the official acts of Governor Walton first dropped out.

LEGAL BATTLE BEGUN

A legal fight to determine whether they are empowered to hold a special session without a call from the governor, was started late yesterday by the sixty-seven members of the lower house of the state legislature whose attempt to launch an impeachment investigation was blocked by state troopers acting under orders from Governor Walton.

They applied in district court here for an injunction to restrain national guardsmen from interfering with meetings of the house.

The case probably will be threshed out in the United States supreme court before it is finally settled, both sides agreed. Hearing on the petition for injunction was set for next Tuesday morning.

Interest in the situation shifted to Tecumseh today where Homer McKeown, grand cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan at Maude, Okla., will be tried in superior court on a charge of contempt of court.

The grand cyclops and W. W. Price, both of whom are prominent Maude business men, were arrested late yesterday after refusing to testify before a military court of inquiry in connection with the flogging of a school teacher at Maude in 1921. They had been implicated in the whipping by witnesses previously interrogated. They were denied bail and spent the night in the county jail at Tecumseh.

The RETORT will heat the floor and will keep the house at an even temperature throughout the day, which cannot be done by the ordinary heating stove. It makes a very cheerful fire as the gas which is extracted from the coal can be seen burning from the three mica doors on the sides of the stove. It cokes the coal and then burns the coke. It is a very clean stove, as clinkers will not form in the stove; burns everything up. Uses any kind of coal or coke.

LICENSE LAW IS EXPLAINED

City Commission Issues Booklet Outlining Scope of Code

PASSAGE DISCUSSED FULLY

Adopted Only After Long Deliberation and Many Conferences

Defense of the city commission's action of last Monday in passing the license law relating to certain kinds of business is contained in the preface to a booklet which City Manager Bingham is preparing to set forth the actual facts of ordinances relating to licenses and permits. This codification of the city license and permit ordinances is made, he says to meet criticism of the state auditor's office.

Besides defending the passage of the license ordinance last Monday night after it had laid dormant for some time, the city manager says that the "city commission of Lima is against the occupational tax as long as there is a chance of the legislature granting financial relief to the cities of Ohio."

Bingham's preface to the booklet reads as follows:

Believing it better to publish the actual facts concerning licenses and permits than to print the lengthy ordinances in full legal terms, the City Manager has prepared this booklet for the guidance of the general public as well as the city officials. A complete cross index is included. The full ordinance on any subject may be examined at the License Bureau in the City Hall by referring to the ordinance numbers printed herein.

OLD CODE UNSATISFACTORY

For many years the ordinances relating to the licenses and permits in Lima have been very unsatisfactory. Numerous privileges which have been licensed for years in practically every other city have been unregulated in Lima and in one case different fees were called for in the same ordinance. In other cases fees had been increased or diminished and several ordinances had never been enforced; with the result that the State Auditor's office rightly criticized the lax system of issuance and collection of licenses in Lima and also recommended in July 1923 that the ordinances of the city be revised and codified.

This revision was the first task undertaken by the new Commission and the first reading of the proposed license ordinance was in April 1923. During the following fifteen months numerous conferences were held between the Commission and persons affected. Over 100 inches of newspaper articles appeared and the members of the Commission and other officials spoke publicly and privately to organizations and individuals on the matter. The Ordinance was then again publicly read on June 11th 1923 and a public meeting set for June 21st, 1923.

No objections were ever filed against the proposed ordinance and no persons appeared at the called meeting. As it was then too late to have the Ordinance become effective for the even half year, the matter was not taken up again until September 24th, when it was read for the third time and passed, thus becoming operative for the last quarter of the year of 1923.

It has not been the desire of the Commission to pass an Ordinance of this type for purely money making reasons, but rather to assure the public of proper inspection and supervision of those privileges at the expense of the person benefited. In numerous states the fees for licenses and permits average three to four dollars per capita while Lima will not average much over fifteen cents even under the revised ordinance. Several cities in this state have enacted occupational taxes whereby every business or professional man is taxed annually in sums ranging from twenty to two hundred dollars.

The City Commission of Lima is against such a tax as long as there is a chance of the Legislature granting financial relief to Ohio cities. During the year and a half of time during which this ordinance was under discussion numerous committees representing various businesses requested the Commission to place the fees at from twice to twenty times as large as finally passed and on one business which has not been covered by any license whatever the various firms offered to each pay a four hundred dollar annual fee. The Commission did not believe any fee should be more than the cost of issuing the license, keeping of the records and the weekly, monthly and annual inspection which would be necessary according to the type of privilege licensed, and it felt that high fees were only offered by some to force others out of business. These are the reasons for what may seem to some a low fee when comparing schedule with other cities.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY FROM ASTHMA

WILLIAM HOWE

Nacor certainly relieves asthma sufferers. Even in the most severe cases it proves its power. This is demonstrated in the case of William Howe, 359 West Sullivan Street, Frankfort, Ind., who suffered for years from bronchial asthma. The story of his remarkable recovery is told in his own words in his letter of May 21, 1928: "It is with pleasure that I can say to you that I am much better than I have been for some time. This time last year I could not do anything at all and could hardly get down town from home, ten blocks, without calling a taxi. Was unable to do any work at all from May 26, 1919, to July 27, 1920, on account of bronchial asthma. Nacor has done wonders for me and I will heartily recommend it to any one suffering from asthma. I have not missed a day's work on account of asthma since I began taking Nacor." On Aug. 11, 1923, over three years later, Mr. Howe advised that he was still feeling fine and gave Nacor full credit for his recovery. Nacor is being widely used for asthma, bronchitis and coughs. Reports are received daily telling the stories of wonderful recoveries after years of suffering. THE HEALTH QUESTION answered by NACOR is a new and valuable book containing full information regarding the use of Nacor in the treatment of asthma, bronchitis and coughs. It also contains photos and testimonials from local parties. It should be read by every one. A copy of this book will be furnished free of all charges upon request. TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA YEARS

On Face In Rash, Canker Headed

"I was troubled with eczema for years. It broke out on my face in a rash when I was only three years old. I would be bothered with it for three or four weeks at a time, then it would go away for a short time and come back again. It itched and burned causing me to scratch, and the scratching caused eruptions. I started using Canker Head and after using three cans of Canker Head and one box of Canker Head, I was healed." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Smith, 417 E. Third Ave., Indianapolis, So. Dak.

OLD CHURCH LAWS RELAXED

Catholic Church Permits Cardinals to go on Foot

ROME.—(United Press.)—The appearance of Cardinal Merry del Val in a city stationery store to purchase a number of illustrated postal cards to take with him to the mountain hamlet where he is spending his vacation, disclosed the fact that times have changed even for the Catholic Church and that another rule, strictly observed for many centuries, has become obsolete with the unwritten approval of the highest church authorities. The rule just abrogated strictly forbade Cardinals to go on foot within the city gates, or enter a public place, except a church. Under this rule every Cardinal was compelled to have a carriage drawn by two black horses, and never leave it except outside the city. With the advent of the motorcar it required a ruling from the congregation of cardinals to allow the wealthier members of the church to discard the old closed carriage for the modern limousine.

Outside the city gates and along the imperial roads the cardinals automatically regained their freedom of long walks. But for many years, or since the capture of the city by the Italians in 1870, even the right the cardinals used rarely. But a remedy was soon found. In a city of villas, with immense private parks and driveways, the patrician families of Rome placed to the disposal of the cardinals their villas, and thus the cardinals could take their daily constitutional in absolute safety. During the war, when horses were scarce and costly and gasoline hard to get, cardinals began to go on foot to the meetings of their congregations and to the Vatican. The late Benedict XV. closed first and then both eyes until so many precedents were established as to render the enforcement of the old rule almost impossible.

The new practice became the fixed rule with the advent of Pius XI., and today the American tourist can even enjoy the sight of a prince of the church walking along the busiest thoroughfares of the city accompanied only by his secretary or followed by his footman.

BILLION IS NETTED BY PARCEL POST SERVICE

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press.)—The parcel post is the first ten years of its existence has brought into the post office department revenues totaling about $1,100,000,000.

In 1921 alone, department records show 1,071,000,000 packages weighing from a few ounces to 70 pounds were carried in the mails at parcel post. In the first year, 1913, the total was $17,000,000. In 1921 parcel post revenues amounted to $40,000,000, and in 1921 had climbed to $139,605,717. Figures for the fiscal year of 1922, are not yet complete, but it is estimated the revenue will approximate $160,000,000.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Henderson has been engaged for six months in an investigation to determine the full scope of the parcel service, but the task is so great that conclusive figures are not yet available.

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe, She had so many children she didn't know what to do, But a wonderful idea entered her head, She fed them plenty of Rem's bread.

ever-increasing growth of this southeast section, in spite of the fact that the Whittier School is also adjacent to our property, with 701 students. 3—Mackenzie Additions are the scenes of great building activity, many new homes under construction with refined houses solidly built right up to and adjoining the lots we are today offering for sale. LIMA BEANES OPEN LETTERS

To Governor Donahey

DEAR VIC: Your communication to the Utilities Commission on the proposal to grant my street car company an additional securities issue apparently had about the same effect as pouring water on a duck's back.

I was rather surprised at the promptness with which that august body ignored it and put thru the issue, but then I presume that you have long since learned that a governor doesn't always get his way. But who knows? It might just have been a little grandstanding, eh, wot?

LIMA BEANE.

To the Motoring Public

DEAR FOLKS: An appalling number of deaths and injuries in traffic this year leads me to appeal to you for increased caution in driving. While the responsibility, I am aware, does not rest entirely upon you, for pedestrians should do their part, I am asking you to start now to exercise more care that accidents will be reduced to the minimum. I hope I may count on your cooperation in the interest of humanity.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Contractors

MY FRIENDS: I appreciate the fact that you must make hay while the sun shines and that it will not be shining long for your work, but I cannot see that this is a valid reason for your trucks to be operated thru my streets in a reckless manner.

My attention has been called to a number of instances where accidents have occurred. This is particularly true this week when three passenger automobiles were more or less damaged by collisions with some of your trucks.

This may not be entirely your fault, but circumstances are against you in the matter. I am certain you will be glad to remedy conditions now that they have been called to your attention.

LIMA BEANE

To Rev. C. A. Rowand, Pastor, Trinity Church

DEAR DOCTOR: I looked in upon your initial social and Bible study gathering last night and was greatly pleased. I believe you have instituted a worthy movement and that much good will come of it. I thank you.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Business Men

FELLOW WORKERS: I'm glad to see the spirit you are displaying in backing the Board of Commerce in its membership drive. Everyone likes a good ball game, as witness the Luncheon Club league of a few years past, so that may be one of the reasons why. However, I have a feeling it is because you are all public spirited and are ready to back anything that will make our city a better place to live in. I'm backing you to put up a real contest.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Weather Man

OLD TOP: Who could kick on such wonderful days as you have been sending for the last week? They're not so good for the coal man, but we will be forced to have considerable dealings with him ere long.

LIMA BEANE

To Frank Hume

DEAR MAJOR: Your explanation as to why the meter department of the city waterworks is broke even tho it has plenty of money is another glimpse into the inside workings of the state laws regarding appropriations. As I understand it, revolving funds are not permitted under the law so the business principle of income and outgo cannot be applied to the operation of a waterworks, unless you pad the appropriation. And then we would hear many protests. We will hope something can be done, however, as it would not do for my many new homes to be meterless.

LIMA BEANE.

To Farm Club Members

DEAR YOUTHS: Your activities during the last year in the various pig, sewing and other clubs has been very gratifying to me. It would seem that you are receiving a wonderful training as well as winning prizes for your efforts. Even tho you cannot all win the trip to Columbus or an award of some other kind, you will learn more about the business that is really the backbone of them all. I'm hoping there will be more of you next year and that greater success than ever will crown your efforts.

LIMA BEANE.

To Rescue Workers

FRIENDS-IN-NEED: I am glad you have chosen my fair city as a meeting place and that you are planning to speak in many of my churches. It is always refreshing to hear something from the outside world that may help my people in their caring for the needy. It is my hope that your stay here will be pleasant and that you will be pleased with my city.

LIMA BEANE.

To College Boosters

BLUFFTON FRIENDS: Your campaign to make Bluffton College a thoroughly modern and up-to-date institution should prove very popular with my people. Ohio folk are notably generous to educational centers and the work you have been doing in gradually building up the school will be appreciated. Of course, I had hoped that my city might some day have a college of its own, but from present indications there is very little hope that such will be. The next best thing will be for my people to adopt your college, Defiance College and Ada University. We will be pulling for you in your campaign.

LIMA BEANE.

To New York Ball Clubs

DEAR BOYS: There was no excitement when the Yanks clinched the American league pennant for the third consecutive year several days ago. There will be no more stir if the Giants do the same in the National league.

The New York monopoly on league flags and world series is the most harmful thing from which baseball has suffered since the "Black Sox" scandal.

If you are allowed to go on buying the series in order that the owners may fill their pockets with cash, our great national sport will feel a decided setback. How about it?

LIMA BEANE

To Philanthropists

CHEERFUL GIVERS: It would seem, from a report made by Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson of the Family Welfare Association, that you are being made the goats in an organized drive for contributions at the hands of a group of unworthy panhandlers. Mrs. Jackson tells me that many of those claiming to need funds to get to the home of a sick or dead relative are frauds and that unwary citizens are being mulched out of hard earned dollars. She suggests the applicants be referred to her office and careful investigation of their claims will be made and, if worthy, answered. That would be a good policy, it seems to me.

INVITED BY THE PRESIDENT

Prohibition Enforcement Likely to be Discussed

MADISON, Wis.—(United Press)

President Coolidge today requested the governors who plan to attend a conference of governors at West Baden, Ind., October 17, to meet with him in Washington immediately after the conclusion of their meeting.

While the telegram from the White House did not state the nature of the Washington conference, it was assumed prohibition enforcement would be discussed.

Riley received the following telegram from Stimp:

"Will the governor's conference at Indianapolis be able to complete their deliberations at Indianapolis, so as to attend a conference here on Saturday, October 20?"

"Will you advise if Saturday, October 20, would be suitable for conference here?"

Riley replied today that the governors would arrive at Washington at 1:15 p. m. on Saturday.

Approximately 35 governors will attend the West Baden meeting. It is an annual affair.

For the annual governor's conference, the state heads will meet at Indianapolis, on October 17, and from there will go to West Baden, where they will hold a three-day program, discussing problems of national interest.

TURK REPUBLIC IS REPORTED

WASHINGTON ELECTION PLEASES DEMOCRATS

PARIS — (Associated Press)

A Havas dispatch from Vienna says it is rumored there that a republic has been declared in Turkey.

The flight of the sultan of Turkey last November has left the political status of Turkey in doubt. The sultan did not abdicate and has since claimed he is still the ruling head of Turkey. But the Kemalists, now dominant, are opposed to the sultanate and a despatch from Constantinople on September 23 said it was virtually certain Turkey would be declared a republic.

Stalter, who said he intends filing affidavits against all five men, said he had stopped at the Menomonee church, south of Scott's crossing, and went to fill the radiator of his car when the quintet standing near the church said to him to get out of the number of remarks.

Later the five men left in Wilhelm's car and stopped about one mile down the road. When Stalter drove up he was stopped and assaulted by them. Stalter claims Deputy sheriff later rounded up the men and ordered them to appear Saturday.

AGEDY CHANGES JAPAN POLICIES

istic Leaders Must Turn Thoughts to Home

THQUAKE BRINGS CHANGE

ut Will be Immensely to Japan's Advantage

NEW YORK — (United Press) — The entire future international policy of Japan will have to be changed because of the devastating catastrophe which has so greatly reduced her military power. The militaristic leaders will be unable to engage in foreign ventures their expansionist schemes must wait for years to come to domestic economy necessary for the reconstruction of Tokyo and the other devastated areas. It is the most terrible earthquake in Japan's history a cataclysmic form of government may be the result. The earthquake came at a precise moment when the appointment of Count Yamamoto as premier by the reactionaries influenced the opening of a new struggle between the democratic forces of the nation and those favoring a continuation of the clan and militaristic autocracy which has the final say at present in all important matters of Japanese policy.

REALISM CHECKED

Had there been no earthquake, Count Yamamoto would have been elected by the reactionaries to develop a policy of imperialistic tendencies, especially aimed at overawing China and making Japan's influence at Peking dominant by means of threatening gestures. The enormous property losses caused by the earthquake and the conflagration on Japan's main island have abruptly terminated such activities by the new Yamamoto cabinet.

Instead of distracting domestic attention from the anti-democratic tendencies of Japan's leaders by imperialistic steps abroad, Count Yamamoto must give all of his attention to saving his country from falling to third or fourth class rank as a world power. The present calamity is more devastating than Japan has ever suffered thru any war, because the Japanese islands have never been invaded by an enemy. The result is as if a war had been fought within Japanese territory and the enemy had been more ruthless than the Germans in France.

Faced by such a situation, the reactionary Japanese political leaders will have to amend their foreign policies entirely. No money will be forthcoming for aggressive movements abroad. All of Japan's surplus wealth for an indefinite time will call for a united front by the Japanese regardless of party connections. Amid such moments democracy finds itself. Count Yamamoto, conservative opponent of progressive ideas, must become the instrument of democratic reconstruction or he will be swept from power. The Elder statesmen no longer can point Japan's attention away from home conditions.

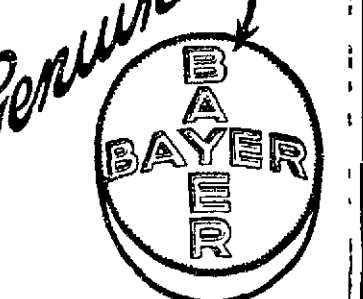

The movement among Japan's militarists to make their country dominant in all international affairs relating to the western shores of the Pacific must be given up. This movement, which to many observers seemed to indicate a future Pacific war, cannot be pushed forward while domestic reconstruction calls for a revival of the samurai spirit for domestic salvation.

Japan has been considering plans for reconstruction of Tokyo and the surrounding area for some time. But the cost was considered prohibitive and only small, piece-meal plans were accepted. Now, however, reconstruction on a gigantic scale has become imperative.

The result will be immensely to Japan's eventual advantage. If the Japanese give their whole attention to the job. They are capable of pulling thru and of modernizing their medieval political system as well as building a new capital to rank with any in the world. But, the cost will be the cancellation of all aggressive foreign policies.

Built by the American People

THE Railroads were not built by railroad men, and they are not owned by railroad men. They were built by the merchants and farmers of the United States, and they are now owned indirectly by all the people of the United States.

The whole splendid system of railroads as it exists today was built with capital, energy and brains furnished by American business men and American farmers with the high purpose of developing the commercial and agricultural interests of the country.

Every one knows that as soon as the iron horse drew his shadow across the land the farms which the Government could scarcely give away suddenly jumped in value to fifty or a hundred dollars an acre, because the railroads had supplied them with the means of development, production and distribution.

When the railroads are making plenty of money, every shop is humming a song of happiness and every farm is growing rich.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST FILES

Wife of Physician Seeks Divorce on Cruelty Grounds

INTOXICATION IS CLAIMED

Would Not Accompany Her to Church, She Tells Court

Religious services had no appeal to Dr. C. A. Files, superintendent of the District Tuberculosis hospital, according to allegations made by Mrs. Eva Files, matron of the institution who is seeking to divorce him.

He never would accompany her to church or to places of amusement, she asserts. Neither would Dr. Files stay at home at night or at any time converse with her at length.

Neither did Dr. Files provide her with clothing during their marital career, she declares, she earned her own clothing by working.

For several years, Mrs. Files asserts, Dr. Files has been intoxicated on numerous occasions, and has been somewhat unpleasant as a companion at such times.

While he was under the influence of strong drink, on June 9, 1923, the plaintiff charges that Dr. Files struck her. Records of a Lima justice court disclose that a warrant for Files was sworn out by his mate but later was withdrawn.

NAGGED AND ABUSED

Mrs. Files also declares that she has been nagged and abused by the defendant for several years. Wild language and names not quoted in the petition were hurled at her, she avers.

Dr. Files formerly maintained a practice in Van Wert, and his wife was employed as a nurse. The medical profession drew the two into close association and they were married in Wallaceburg, Canada, in 1911.

One year ago sensational charges were made in connection with Dr. Files' management of the hospital, and he was relieved by trustees. An investigation conducted by a joint committee of commissioners from five counties in the district, exonerated Dr. Files on charges of gross extravagance and mismanagement.

Dr. Files recently resigned on account of ill health, he said. Mrs. Files, however, asserts in her petition that his health is good.

She asserts that he has been earning $2,500 a year with lodging at the hospital, and has Van Wert property, 500 acres of land in New Mexico, and other resources unknown.

A decree and an award of alimony are asked by Mrs. Files.

WORK NEEDED FOR TWO. SALVATION ARMY REPORTS

Two persons have called upon the Salvation Army for assistance in obtaining work, Captain F. W. Wilkinson has announced. One is a widow with two children. She is willing to do most any kind of work, it is said. The other is an elderly man who can do many odd jobs to aid in earning his own livelihood.

Calls are also being received at the army headquarters for maternity outfits and baby clothes, Captain Wilkinson said. Anyone having work the two persons can do or who have the outfits needed are asked to get in touch with the headquarters.

WASHINGTON, D. C. WOMAN BENEFITS BY HAMMER WILL

Mrs. Jenny I. Williams, Washington, D. C., is the principal beneficiary under the will of the late Mary L. Hammer, filed in probate court Friday.

Provision is made in the event of her death, prior to the demise of the decedent that the bequest, comprising the bulk of the estate, will go to Lucia K. Williams, daughter of the beneficiary.

The initial item in the will asks that the remains of the decedent be laid beside those of her husband in Woodlawn cemetery, and a suitable marker be erected.

The executor is directed to place a memorial tablet, not to exceed $50 in cost in the Seventh Day Adventist church as a tribute to the late Emmett J. Hammer, husband of the decedent. The tablet will read, "In memory of Emmett J. Hammer, loyal in life; in death victorious."

MAKES PERSONAL ATTEMPT TO HAVE PREMIER HERE

Judge Kent Hughes and City Commissioner Earl Rohn left Lima Thursday evening for New York city where they will have a conference with the Honorable Sir Alfred Cope, personal representative of David Lloyd George, relative to having the British statesman visit Lima during his American tour.

The Lima delegates were armed with proper credentials from the Board of Commerce asking that they be given a hearing and promising that if Lloyd George does visit this city that he will be royally received and entertained.

Judge Hughes and Commissioner Rohn have full power to act for the Welsh residents of Lima and vicinity as well as the Board of Commerce in promising proper reception for Britain's war premier.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN CAMP FIRE AND WEINIE POAST

Lima boy scouts will have a weiner roast in Scout Hollow, Laurel park, Saturday evening with games in the afternoon and a camp fire at night, according to plans which have been completed by the local scout officials.

Scouts are to be at the park not later than 3:30 p. m. Saturday and a series of scout games will be staged open to all scouts who attend the party. Following the games comes the big roast and then when the shadows of evening have come the boys and their leaders will gather around a camp fire for one of those story telling periods dear to the heart of the healthy boy.

Every boy is expected to be back at his home by 9 p. m. that evening, officials said, so the party will not last very late.

ALLEY PARKERS TO FACE COURT

Week of Leniency Expires; No Further Warnings

Week of leniency for alley parking violators expires Friday night and starting Saturday morning every motorist parking his automobile in alleys of the business district will be summoned into criminal court.

The minimum fine for traffic violations is $5 under the revised traffic ordinance, Police Chief Lanker says.

Impression that a five minute parking privilege applies to alleys is wrong, according to Lanker who states that trucks only are allowed to park in alleys and then only for loading and unloading purposes when it is not possible to enter stores by other ways.

Three violators in court Friday for parking in the safety zone on W. High-st in front of the waterworks office were dismissed without fine in criminal court.

Wilbur Miller, 217 N. Central-av, paid a fine of $5 for parking in the wrong direction on N. Central-av.

James Dudley, 218 S. West-st, was dismissed without a fine on a charge of using the street as a public garage.

Violators dismissed by Judge Poling were: Ralph Heigut, 211 W. Kentworth-av; J. M. Epstein, 109 N. Melcut-at; J. F. Curry, R. D. 7.

Little Jack Horner sat in a corner eating with all his might, His sister Jane said "If that's Ben's bread, I wish you'd give me a bite."

POLICE HUNT FOR MISSING BABY

Wants Mixed at Detroit Hospital, One Disappears

FATHER PUT UNDER ARREST

Authorities Fail on Evidence Against Him, However

DETROIT—(Associated Press)—William Greatrex, whose wife died seven days after the birth of his son, is continuing today to search for a clue to the mysterious disappearance of the baby which was taken by mistake to Alphonse Vlemminck when he called at the Evangelical Deaconess hospital to claim an infant son of his 18 year old daughter, Eva Vlemminck. When Greatrex went to the hospital to get his child after his wife's death at Toronto, Canada, he discovered the child was not at the hospital. An investigation showed the baby belonging to Greatrex had been turned over to Vlemminck. Hospital authorities found Vlemminck and attempted to get possession of the child but the baby had disappeared. Police took Vlemminck into custody and demanded that he produce the baby. He asserted he had given the child to a man "from Pennsylvania" who he met in a saloon on his way home from the hospital. Although police assert he changed his story in some detail, after several hours of questioning he still maintains the child was given to a stranger. Doubting the story told by Vlemminck, police began an exhaustive search of the woods, trees, a marsh and a creek near the Vlemminck home. Except for a few baby garments found at the house, no clue as to the whereabouts of the child was obtained. Eva Vlemminck, mother of the child, also asserted she did not know anything about the missing baby. Prosecuting Attorney Paul W.

Voorhies said today that until the baby is found no action can be taken against the father. In the meantime the Vlemminck baby still is at the hospital, awaiting some one to claim it.

HE'S SAVED 27 FROM DEATH

SEATTLE — (Special) — Harold Shidler has saved 27 grown-ups from death by drowning, plus so many children that he's lost count of them. He isn't a professional life guard but his grateful admirers are willing to overlook the fact. He's manager of the Green Lake bathing beach during the summer. In winter he's a student, just now spending his spare time on the football scrimmage line. It's from Green Lake that he's made all his rescues. Seven of those who owe their lives to him are men. Twenty are of the fair sex of flapper age or more. Some of the 27 he found rather difficult to yank from a watery grave, but children, he says, are easy to save.

MRS. CLARK IS HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

AMONG the several informal affairs during the week for the pleasure of Mrs. J. C. Linne-mer of Pasadena, Cal., who is visiting here and who after Sunday will be the house-guest of Mrs. M. S. Thompson, Shawnee, and Mrs. R. W. Argue, of Independence, Kansas, who leaves Saturday after being the guest of Lima friends, was the one o'clock luncheon-bridge given on Friday by Mrs. Charles H. Clark at her lovely country home.

Centering the table in the dining room, where a two-course buffet luncheon was served, was a large platter basket of various kinds and shades of garden flowers. Candles in the crystal holders added their attractiveness to the table. Mrs. Grace Hollister assisted during the luncheon. Five tables of bridge were arranged in the living room for the afternoon's pleasure.

Guests included twenty intimate friends of the honored guests, Mrs. Linne-mer and Mrs. Argue.

Mrs. C. F. Lufkin held high score in the bridge games and Mrs. Emmett Curtin, Jr., was high in the Mah Jong games at the Shawnee Country club on Thursday, the last "Ladies Day" of the season. Nine tables were filled for the card games.

Annual election of the presiding officer of the Ladies Golf club was held on Thursday, which resulted in Mrs. Emmett Curtin, Jr., being named next year's president. She succeeds Mrs. J. E. Sullivan. The secretary of the golf club is appointed by the president.

Altho yesterday's gathering was the final one for the summer, the women will continue their golf games while the weather is nice. Picnic luncheons will be enjoyed following the mornings on the links.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Frances Lois Balliet, 125 1-2 S. Main-st., and Florence Putnam of Rockford, which took place Sunday afternoon at the parsonage of Trinity M. E. church. Rev. C. A. Rowland officiated at the ceremony. The couple were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam will make their home in the Cahill Apts., S. Main-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Good-year, W. Market-st., leave Saturday for Cleveland where they will be the week-end guests of friends.

Mrs. Waldo Hagenstein, Ewing-av., welcomed the members of the Polly Anna Euchre club to her home, Wednesday afternoon. At the conclusion of the euchre games, Mrs. John Wron and Mrs. Harry Beach held high scores. Mrs. Frank Nelson was low. Assisted by Mrs. W. H. Hoppus and Miss Cloe Hoppus, the hostess served a two-course luncheon.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Foster Sanders, Linden-av.

Mrs. C. F. Lufkin, Marquette-av., leaves Sunday for a short stay in New York City. She will go from there to Boston, Mass., for a time.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart
You have helped me before I am coming to you for advice. I am a number of pounds overweight. Could you suggest a menu which would serve as a diet? I am 17 years old. How long should I wear my dresses? What color of slippers are most appropriate for my age? I have dark hair and eyes. What color and shape hat would be most becoming? When being introduced to a young man is it proper to offer your hand? What is most appropriate to say on this occasion? Is it proper for a girl to invite her boy friend to all parties? One of my boy friends got angry at me because of a girl friend's false- hood. We talked it over but I was unable to convince him I was right. Is it his place to make up (which he has) or should I be rather distant as he seems to understand the situation.

WALKING and other forms of exercise help much to reduce. A plain sensible diet would help also. The following things are the things to eat, green vegetables, lean meat, clear soup, graham bread, etc. Stay away from all fats, starches and sweets. Eat enough, but eat the right kind of foods.

The length of your dresses depends upon your height. Wear hem a becoming length not extremely long just to be in style. I would wear black or brown slippers.

Brown, henna or black hats would be becoming to you. I should say. If you have a rather full face, wear a hat with a brim. Small brimmed hats are not becoming to people with large faces. Perhaps the short backs would be attractive for you.

Yes. "How-do-you-do. Mr. Brown," or "I'm very pleased to meet you."

Yes.

If the young man has offered an apology and it was his place to do so, why not accept it and continue your friendship? You'll gain nothing by being distant to him.

QUEST BY BRENTANOS—GIVEN BY THE RAILWAY COMPANY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Hope Ranger, daughter of wealthy parents, disappeared after having been seen at the Plaza with her best friend, Lucia. Hope's father, Mr. Ranger, is a prominent business man and her mother, Mrs. Ranger, is a well-known social leader. Hope is a beautiful girl, and her disappearance has caused much speculation. It is believed that she was seen at the Plaza with Lucia, who is a girl of the same age and is also a friend of Hope's. The last time Hope was seen was on the morning of the 25th. She was wearing a blue dress and a white hat. She was seen walking towards the Plaza. She was seen with Lucia, who was also wearing a blue dress and a white hat. They were seen walking towards the Plaza. They were seen walking towards the Plaza. They were seen walking towards the Plaza.

a customer at the cashier's desk offer a question of correct change. The alteration had become so heated that the manager of the place had been summoned. Miss Ranger, like every one else in the shop, had turned to watch the incident, and then, when it had been settled, she finished her sundae and went out. And from that point, the investigators ran into a blank wall. After four days of assiduous effort on the part of the Police Department, aided now by an army of private detectives, no clue had been unearthed to indicate what had become of her or whither she had gone. Mrs. Ranger was by this time under the care of physicians, ill from grief and worry; and her husband, his face lined and haggard, his straight shoulders bowed, looked 20 years older. Even Eustice Higby showed the effects of the strain.

In desperation they decided to make the facts public, and every newspaper in the country was filled with descriptions of the missing girl.

CHAPTER IV

Ranger's pipes are known all over the world. Buy a pipe—clay, calabash, meerschaum, briar-root or what-not, and in whatever part of the globe—and the chances are ten to one that "Ranger & Co. Makers," will be found stamped on it. The factory and salesroom occupy a block on Seventh Avenue near Fourteenth Street, and there, as a matter of habit, Ranger continued to go daily in the attempt to win some surcease from anxiety by absorbing himself in the accustomed routine. So ready was he to listen to every wild story or suggestion offered him that it had been found necessary to post guards before his office door to protect him from the invasion of cranks and impostors. Thus, one morning, Number One of the cordon peremptorily halted a caller who had attempted to stroll by him, and who now, with too much assurance to be pleasing said that he wished to see "Ranger."

The off-hand manner, as well as the lack of the prefix of "Mister," annoyed the guard. Neither did he find the stranger's appearance prepossessing. Dark, lean, his clothes unpressed his hat tilted, the man swaggered before him.

"Ranger, eh?"—with heavy sarcasm. "Well, I got to tell you that the boss is busy this morning and can't see anybody—even you." The visitor shifted his hat to another and more respectable angle, took an old pipe from his pocket and began to fill it. "You're new here, my lad; that's plain. But, if you're in doubt take my name, either to Frank Bryan or Loring himself."

The guard scowled, but wavered in his decision to throw the man out. He trusted his own impressions more than he did this airy certainty of welcome. Yet the fellow seemed so confoundingly sure.

He covered his hesitation with truculent repartee. "Well, s'posin' I do? Who shall I say it is that wants the boss—Lloyd George or Herbert Hoover?"

"Neither." The man flicked a raveling from his sleeve. "He'll probably see me quicker if you give it to him straight. Just say, my good man, that Jaurez Charlie is here."

Jaurez Charlie! In the face of such a designation, Number One felt his original estimate of the man fully justified. And yet there was something in that dark, obscure glance, in the jeering smile on the glib mouth that overrode his settled judgment. Uncertainly he scratched his jaw.

"I don't know but what I'll take a chance on you," he finally decided. "You ain't so much worse than a lot I've had to let get by. But listen here—with a return of authority—" "If I get in wrong, you'd better not wait. I'm coming back, and if they don't want you, I'll just naturally wipe up the street with you."

As he came into the presence of Ranger's private secretary, Frank Bryan, the impulse that had led him to take in the name of the rakish visitor weakened, and he stood shuffling his feet, uncertain what to say.

"Mr. Bryan, sir, there's a— a party out there, that wants to see Mr. Ranger. He said to tell you or Mr. Ranger that Jaurez Charlie—" "Jaurez Charlie?" the secretary snapped. "Why didn't you say so? Show him into the private office at once."

The bewildered guard returned to his post. "This way, mister," he beckoned with disgruntled civility. "Never mind." He waved Number One aside. "I know the way." He passed on, a privileged character, exchanging a word or two with different employees in the outer office and nodding familiarly to others; for, rolling-stone adventurer who he was, grater and swindler as he was suspected of being, Jaurez Charlie was welcome here to come and go as he pleased.

He and Loring Ranger had been boys together. More than once the successful manufacturer had urged his old associate to take a position with him, offering Charlie his choice either inside the factory or on the road; for it was Ranger's firm belief that the vagabond, if he would only devote himself to it, would make an incomparable salesman.

But Charlie always evaded these efforts at rehabilitation.

His special gifts were various, perhaps the less said about them the better. He employed them when he felt like it and when opportunity offered; loafed when he felt like it; traveled constantly about the country—sometimes first-class, some times in the company of jacks and hoboes—boasted that he had a more comprehensive knowledge of the United States than any other man within its borders, and regarded life on the whole with a cynical, good-humored philosophy which no exigency could daunt or misfortune overwhelm.

There was an unwanted tag of sympathy at Charlie's wrinkled head, and on a sudden impulse he stepped over and laid his hand on Ranger's shoulder.

"Tough luck, Lorry!" he said huskily. "But don't give way like this, old boy. Brace up; it isn't—it isn't as of your little girl were gone for good."

The friendly touch, the sincerity of feeling in his tone brought an unexpected response. A tremor ran thru the manufacturer's bent frame; then, with a groan, he dropped his head in his hands.

"It's no use, Charlie." His voice came brokenly. "No use to try and deceive myself. She is gone for good."

He turned away to hide his working face then twisted round and began to talk rapidly. Here at last was some one to whom he could lay bare all that was in his mind.

"Look at the facts, Charlie. Look at the facts. It's a month yesterday since Hope went away—was taken away, I mean—and in all that time not a word from her—not word of her. Only this horrible silence—like a thick black curtain meeting me everywhere I turn."

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry.—All the charms of beauty.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. has been riding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. S. S. S. is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

THE TANGLE

After Ruth left me, I rather began to wonder why she had told me so freely her life's tragedy. You and I, little Marquise, know that women seldom confess to other women that their husbands are what men call dishonorable. There is another definition for them when men mistreat women.

Ruth made it very plain by her illustrations with the Seventh and Eighth Commandments. A man treats the breaking of the Seventh commandment as a joke. To the woman it always spells tragedy.

A woman hates to confess that her husband is something disreputable in the eyes of other men. Because I was a woman I knew how hard it would be for Ruth to say this about her husband and I knew that she had some peculiar motive in doing so.

All at once what Jack had told me after returning from the visit to New York with Harry Ellington came to my mind. "I am sitting on the rim of the world," he had said and how he had alternately been in the highest and lowest of spirals ever since.

"Jack is dabbling in stocks," I said to myself, "and that is why he wanted the baby's five hundred dollars. He is doing this thru Harry Ellington and Ruth, poor girl, has swallowed her pride to tell me. She cares enough for me to warn Jack thru me."

I could hardly wait until Jack came home to ask him about it and when I did, he answered gruffly, "Who's been telling you anything?" "But you know, dear, if Mr. Bullock finds out that you have been buying stocks on a margin, I am almost sure he will discharge you."

"No, he won't Leslie, while I am turning in as much business as I am now."

"It doesn't seem to be doing us any good, Jack. I wonder if you know that it is more than a month and a half since you have given me one cent of money."

"If you will wait for a week or two you will have all the money you want. Besides, I knew you had money."

"But Jack, I spent the last of that thousand dollars over a week ago and today both the grocery bill and the rent are due."

"I really can't understand where that thousand dollars went to, Leslie."

"A great deal of it paid my hospital bills."

"Well, the grocer and the landlord will have to wait. I will not have a cent until I am paid Thursday."

I didn't say anything. My heart was too full. I knew what Ruth had intimated was true. That is where Jack's commissions have gone. What could I do? Is it always woman's destiny only to watch and wait?

'Adaptation of Famous Stage Play Opens Saturday

A BLENDING of charming comedy, thrilling reality and fascinating romance is promised in Goldwyn's first King Vidor production, "Three Wise Fools," from Austin Strong's popular stage play produced by John Golden and Winchell Smith, when it comes to the Lyric theatre Saturday for four days. Vidor is known as one of the most gifted of the younger directors. His stories and characters have the aspect of reality without sacrificing romance and charm. In this photoplay he is said to have surpassed his previous good work. Goldwyn gave him a most capable cast to interpret the story. There is Eleanor Boardman as Sydney Fairchild, daughter of the woman with whom the "three wise fools" had been in love in their youth. She had married another man, and

"The Silent Partner" Carries Moral of Thrift

THE Silent Partner, a Paramount picture featuring Leatrice Joy and Owen Moore, is an absorbing domestic drama and carries with it a moral that of thrift. It will appear at the Quilna until Sunday. The question of whether a wife should have anything to say as regards her husband's business deals is answered in this picture. Leatrice Joy as Lisa Coburn, determines that despite her husband's protests she will have her say in his affairs, which directly concern her future happiness. And it is well that she does, for Coburn, hugely successful for a time thru his activities in Wall Street, suddenly finds himself up against severe reverses. Had not his wife taken measures to provide for a rainy day, affairs would have been dark indeed. Lisa has taken advantage of his success by making him give her much money for expensive gowns, pearls and the like. But instead of spending the money, Lisa deposits it in the bank. Thus when the crash comes she is prepared. All goes well, until the accident, Coburn comes upon all the evidence of his wife's evident duplicity in her waking dream. He will not listen to her explanations and is left only to go on united with his wife when both confess their mutual shortcomings. Playing in the supporting cast are Robert Schable, Patterson Dial, Robert Benson, Bill Woodruff, Maudie Wayne and others.

"The Hero" and "The French Doll" Coming to Sigma

TWO good pictures are scheduled to appear at the Sigma theatre next week, the first being "The Hero" starring Gaston Glass which opens Saturday and the other "The French Doll" with Mae Murray, following on Monday. "The Hero" is the pen production of Gilbert Emery and was hailed as the finest dramatic composition ever contributed to the stage by an American author. Emery has been known to the reading public for many years under the name of Emery Pottle as a writer of novels and short stories. When his stage piece was produced in New York by Sam Harris, dramatic critics were unanimously enthusiastic in proclaiming it. Burn Mantle, former critic of the New York Mail who conducts similar departments for the New York News and Chicago Tribune, has included Emery's "The Hero" in his yearbook of the American drama, "The Best Plays of 1921-22."

The two principal roles in the play in its original form, were portrayed by Robert Ames and Richard Bennett. As a picture these characterizations are filled by two men equally as prominent in their own medium. Ames' part has gone to Gaston Glass, remembered for his contribution in "Humoresque" and "Rich Men's Wives." Bennett has been replaced by John Salapoff, who gave a colorful performance as the church deacon in "Shadows." The principal feminine interpretation is undertaken by Barbara La Marr, who won her popularity in a series of Rex Ingram productions.

"The French Doll" is said to break Mae Murray's own record for gorgeous gowns and luxurious settings. Her ravishing costumes were made from her own designs in New York, Paris and Vienna, and they represent the last word in luxurious apparel. There are scenes of society life in Paris, New York and Palm Beach. Miss Murray has the role of a vivacious little French girl who found romance in America. "The French Doll" is based on the successful play in which Irene Belland played the leading role.

What Is Celoid Finish?

It is a comparatively new finish for walls, woodwork, and furniture, called Celoid as it resembles Celluloid. It is really an enamel drying with a celluloid like finish that is waterproof and is ideal for kitchen or bath room walls. It goes farther than ordinary paints or enamels and covers so well that one coat is usually enough. It can be applied in about one-half the time of paint and it only takes about half as much. Investigate this wonderful finish if you are going to do any interior finishing. It is better looking than anything on the market and due to its covering is more economical. For sale only by

Who is Mary Philbin?

A few months from now you will laugh at any one who asks, "Who is Mary Philbin?" But I'll tell you now just who she is!

She was in an Elks' beauty contest in Chicago when I first saw her. I sent her direct to Universal City.

She was of such an ethereal beauty that I did not dare to let her appear in a stellar part and have the critics say, "She is beautiful, but she cannot act."

Besides this, I wanted to know if, in addition to beauty and intelligence, she had personality—that mysterious something that distinguishes the false from the real star.

So Mary Philbin has worked—worked hard—and waited. No doubt she has wondered at the long way she has had to travel to stardom—for Mary has proven herself an artist, with an artist's impulsive, imaginative temperament.

After three years—because of her beauty, intelligence and willingness to work and to learn—her chance came. Under Rupert Julian's direction she appeared in the lead opposite Norma Kerr in "Merry Go Round."

And what is "Merry Go Round?"

Just a love story, told in a new way, that Mary Philbin will make you remember as one of the greatest love stories of all time.

In the "Merry Go Round" you will smile and sigh, sympathize and live and laugh—with the most appealing heroine you have ever seen in pictures, and you will suddenly realize that Mary Philbin, the coming star, has arrived.

Ed and Pollard Doubles

(BY CADJE)

It is perhaps proper to say that to one, in the history of vaudeville at the Faurot, where a bill unheralded and unknown, so many pleasant surprises. It good bill, evenly balanced and no of cats disjunctive and far t of the usual standard t the most important perhaps.

and here is where the double comes in.

Berg gave the information that he had doubled for this very popular favorite many times. "But give me some of them."

"The Pirates," "The Haunted Spooks," "The High and Disy," and "Among Those Present." I doubled every rough part." As he said this he put the familiar glasses on and corroborated the statement. He is the counterpart of the celebrated picture comedian; angular features, prominent but bony nose; same size, but with a little quite a wonderful acrobat.

And the same must be said about English, and his type in makeup mannerisms, features and even to pointing on his upper lip the familiar mustache, duplicating the features of Pollard, so cleverly that they have fooled the camera.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Emmet Everett, attorney, attended a lecture some time ago at which a well known aviator was telling of the many feats that can be accomplished by human birds.

"I can do anything a bird can do," he asserted broadly.

"All right," said a voice at the rear, "I'd like to see you fast asleep hanging onto a tree branch by one foot."

A. G. Metford, W. Spring-st., overheard a woman telling about her experiences driving an automobile.

"So far I have had no trouble," she said. "Of course, I have never had to change a tire and I know I could not do that because they have 80 pounds of air in them, besides the weight of the tire."

T. A. Lanker, chief of police, tells of a bank yegg who was about ready to blow the safe when he saw a sign, "Save Your Dynamite. The safe is not locked. Turn the knob and open."

After thinking it over the yegg decided to try it out and grasped the knob. Instantly the office was flooded with light, an alarm bell sounded, an electric shock rendered him helpless, while a panel in the wall opened and out rushed a bull dog which seized him.

Later in the city jail he was heard to say: "I know what's wrong with me, I'm too trusting. I have too much faith in human nature."

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe. She had so many children she didn't know what to do. But a wonderful idea entered her head. She fed them plenty of Ren's bread.
